Memorial to Frank Herbert Andrews.

The history of the William Andrews Family in America was made possible by the untiring work of Mr. Andrews and this Genealogy of the family is dedicated to his memory. The publication of this book was started in August, 1938, and as the typewritten manuscript was put into type the proofs were sent to Mr. Andrews to be read and revised. The last four proofs of type were mailed out to him, but before he had a chance to read them he had suffered a heart attack and died suddenly. As the work had progressed Mr. Andrews had written the publishers that he was very much pleased with the manner the printing was being done.

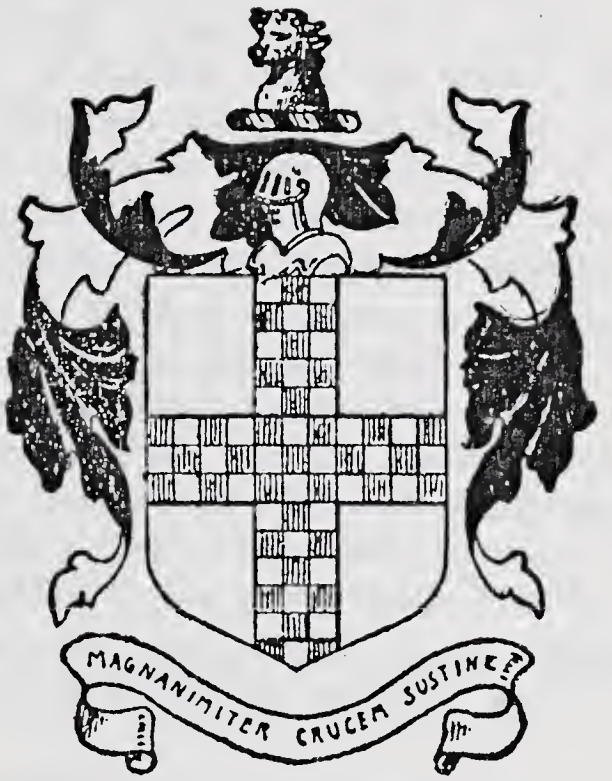
(No. 251). Asa Edwin Andrews, father of the subject of this sketch, became interested in gathering the history of his Andrews family. Following his father's death for some thirty years the son carried on the work. After his retirement from business he devoted a good deal of his time to gathering historical facts. There are nearly 1000 family names in the Genealogy and one can realize the work required to get the place in history of each one.

At the same time his cousin, Mrs. Mary Eliza Andrews Meacham (No. 256) was engaged in the same pursuit, both following the lines of descent in the family of Deacon Chester Andrews (No. 238). Also at the same time, Mrs. Lucy Andrews Shaw (No. 587) was engaged in gathering data concerning the descendants of her father, Rev. Wells Andrews, next younger brother of Deacon Chester Andrews. The information concerning the descendants of the youngest brother of Deacon Chester Andrews Nelson (No. 243) was supplied by the children of his daughter, Orrill Banning Andrews Bartels (No. 890).

From these sources Frank Herbert Andrews gained information which prompted him to further search.

Frank Herbert Andrews was born at Fowler, Trumbull county, Ohio, July 11, 1858. He married Addie E. Conant May 5, 1881, who died May 5, 1917. From this union two sons and a daughter were born. One son, Clarence, died at the age of 27 years, and the daughter, Dorothy, at the age of 23 years. He is survived by his son, Herbert N. Andrews, who was born Nov. 12, 1888, and lives at Youngstown, Ohio. Also by a granddaughter, Dorothy Jean Andrews.

Mr. Andrews started railroad work in 1873 on the Atlantic Great Western railroad (now the Erie railroad). He was telegraph operator, train dispatcher and chief dispatcher.



Andrews

ANDREWS COAT OF ARMS

Descended from Andrews family in England.

The Andrews name signifies "son of Andrew." Andrew is from a Greek word meaning "manly, courageous."

Descendants of WILLIAM ANDREWS of Hartford, Conn.

Early Records Compiled by Mrs. Lucy A. Shaw and Mrs. Mary A. Meacham. Later Records by Frank H. Andrews.

HISTORICAL.

The Andrews family is an old family in England. The ancestors of William Andrews are not known. Samuel Andrews, in the Court of King James, Thomas and Richard Andrews, who assisted the Plymouth Colony in 1626 to 1635, Thomas Andrews, Lord Mayor of London 1650. No direct connection has been traced from William Andrews to any of the above, but it is probable that he is of some connection of Richard and Thomas Andrews, as these names descend through his family for several generations, also the name Samuel.

The first reference to William Andrews is in a list of inhabitants of Newtown (now Cambridge, Mass.) Nov. 25, 1633. "At a meeting of the whole town, there was chosen to order the business of the whole town, for the following year, and until new be chosen, in their room—'William Andrews'—which nine men are to have the power of the town, as those formerly chosen had, as may appear in the order made Feb. 3, 1634."

Furthermore, there was chosen and sworn, William Andrews, as constable for the following year and until a new be chosen.

His first wife was Mary ....., who died Nov. 19, 1639.

In 1633 a company came from England with Rev. Dr. Thomas Hooker, a noted divine, to Newtown, now Cambridge, Mass. They arrived in Boston in Sept., 1633, in the ship Griffin. This party was the most important addition to the new Colony, since the landing of the Pilgrims Dec. 21, 1620.

The laws of the Mass. Colony limited office holding and the elected franchise, to church members only.

Such restrictions did not agree with the idea of personal liberty of the Colonists, and in 1636 one hundred of them, with their pastor, Dr. Hooker, made their way through the wilderness and settled at a point on the west bank of the Connecticut river, 95 miles southwest of Boston. They named the place Hartford, after Hertford, England. They were two weeks making the journey, arriving there about July 14, 1636. A monument erected to the memory of these pioneers, in the Center church burying ground, marks their names.

Thereon is the name of WILLIAM ANDREWS.

He was first town clerk in 1639. In the land division in the same year he drew 30 acres of land. In 1640 he was awarded 10 pounds sterling, for teaching school. At a particular court held March 4, 1651, he was confirmed recorder for the Town of Hartford.

He died in 1659. His will dated April 1, 1659. Inventory taken Aug. 3, 1659. Amount 211£, 14s, 11d. His second wife was Abigail Graves, aunt of George Graves of Hartford. After his death she married Nathaniel Barding, who lived on Lord's Hill, and who died about 1674.

His sons were John, Thomas, Samuel and William. Thomas settled in Middletown, and died in 1690. Samuel, son of Thomas, married Eleanor Lee and settled in East Haddam. They had 16 children, twelve of whom were baptized when their mother joined the church in East Haddam in 1725.

Nehemiah Andrews, son of Samuel, born May 8, 1722, at East Haddam, removed to Hartland, Conn., about 1760, where he built a hotel which he kept many years. He sold out in 1797 and moved to Stockbridge, Mass., where one of his sons was located. He died there Feb. 3, 1800, and his wife Hannah Borden died Jan. 20, 1803. Both were buried at Stockbridge.

Asa Andrews, son of Nehemiah, born at East Haddam. Removed from Hartland to Hartford, Ohio, in 1804, with his six sons, also Thomas Bushnell, who had married his sister, Rebecca Andrews. Asa Andrews purchased 1000 acres of land in Hartford township, and settled on Lot 47, where John McFarland lived in 1882. William Andrews, son of William, probably died young, as there is no further reference made to him.

Estate of Thomas Andrews of Middletown, son of William of Hartford. Inventory taken and returned to probate court at Hartford March 3, 1690, 58 pounds, 9s, 6d. distribution to the widow and to Mary, Thomas, John, Samuel, Hannah, Elizabeth and Sarah. Appraisers were William Chaney, Samuel Callen and Daniel Parkham. Overseers were David Sage and Isaac Johnson.

Samuel Andrews of Hartford, son of William. From probate court records. Will of Samuel Andrews of Hartford, 1711, gave his wife Elizabeth, to son Nathaniel, to John, to Samuel, Jr., his youngest, to daughter Abigail (Steadman), to Elizabeth his daughter, and made his wife executor.

Chester Andrews, son of Asa, united with the church at Hartford, Ohio, and was elected deacon, in which office he served until his death in 1848. He was one of the largest subscribers to the fund for building the new church in 1818-1819. In Sept., 1823, he was among 45 persons who formed a new church for Hartford township, also his daughters Lucy and Hannah. In 1841 he and 41 others withdrew from the church and formed a Presbyterian church. In 1852 this church united with the main church. In 1826 Rev. Wells Andrews, brother to Chester, was called from Alexandria, Virginia, to become pastor at Hartford, Ohio.

Asa Andrews, Jesse Gates—and others, Hartland, Conn., Jan. 26, 1776. This is to certify, that the above named persons was in actual services in the year A. D. 1776. (Although this return is made to be for the year 1776 it seems probable that the date is in error of the writer for 1775).

Connecticut State Library. Revolution. 6—9. Returns made to the state authorities, from different towns, signed by the selectmen of the town, who had been employed in the Continental services in 1775, and gives name of persons resident of that town, from which it is sent, and who, under the law passed in Dec. of that year, were exempt from payment of certain taxes to the state. Hartland—Asa Andrews and others.

Asa Andrews and Sherman Andrews, sons of Asa Andrews, of Hartford, Ohio, were in the war of 1812.

Thomas Andrews of England had sons John, Samuel, Nathaniel, Elinor and Alice in New England.

Will of Margaret Harrison of Battersea, England, March 1, 1641, was witnessed by Richard Andrews and Thomas Andrews was executor.

War Department, Washington, D. C., Oct. 20, 1908.

The records show that one Nehemiah Andrus, name not found as Andrews, whose rank is not stated, served as a member of Capt. Benjamin Hutchins Co., 18th regiment Conn. militia, commanded by Jonathan Pettibone, Esq., Revolutionary War. This name appears on an unidentified pay abstract, which shows that he arrived at New York Aug. 18, 1776, and that he was discharged Sept. 25, 1776, and that he served one month and 21 days, including 7 days marching down and 6 days returning home. Signed, T. Winsworth, The Adjutant General.

Will of William Andrews of Hartford. Dated April 1, 1659.

I, William Andrews, being sick and weak, but of perfect memory, do in this, my last will and testament, give and bequeath to Abigail my wife, my home barn and home lot, as it is enjoyed between my son Edward Grannis, and me; also I do give and bequeath unto the said Abigail, my wife, all my meadow land, that lyeth in the place called Hockamum, and all my uplands, also during the term of her natural life. Also I give to the said Abigail, my wife, two cows and one yearling calf. Also give unto her, 4 yards of kersey, and 3 dozen buttons and silk and all of her movable goods, during the time she liveth unmarried. If the said Abigail, my wife, shall see cause to alter her condition by marrying another man, then my will is that such of the movables as she can conveniently spare, shall be disposed of among the children as she shall see fit, with the advice of the overseers of this my will. Also my will is to give unto my son, John, one working steer, also my will is, that Abigail my wife, shall dispose of my land, a meadow and swamp, housing and home lot, among the children, to every one of them, some, as she shall think fit, with the advice and consent of the overseers of this my will. I do hereby make Abigail, my wife, sole executrix, of this my will and testament, and also do instruct my loving friend Edward Stebbins, and my brother George Graves, to assist my wife, and to see that this my will, executed and performed.—Signed, William Andrews. Dated April 1, 1659. Edward Stebbins, George Graves, witnesses.

Genealogical Record. Andrews Family.

1 WILLIAM ANDREWS, Immigrant Ancestor. Date of birth unknown, probably about 1595 to 1600. Died at Hartford, Conn., between April 1 and Aug. 3, 1659. Emigrated from England 1633, probably in ship Griffin with Rev. Thomas Hooker and party. His wife was Mary ....., who died at Braintree, Mass., (or possibly Cambridge) Nov. 19, 1639. His second wife was Abigail Graves, married in 1640, who married Nathaniel Barding after the death of William Andrews in 1659. He was first schoolmaster and town clerk of Hartford.

HIS CHILDREN.

2 William Andrews, probably died young. Nothing further known.

3 Elizabeth Andrews. Born..... Married May 3, 1654, at Hartford to Edward Grannis. She died about 1660, leaving one child who died soon after, named Joseph.

4 Thomas Andrews, born May 4, 1638. Died .....1690. Married before 1673 Hannah Kirby, daughter of John and Elizabeth Kirby of Wethersfield. She was born March 2, 1649-50. They settled at Middletown. She married second, before 1693, Alexander Rollo, who died July 22, 1709. She died Oct.....1717.

5 John Andrews, born.....married Mary..... about 1642-43. 891 SUSAN CLARK was adopted daughter of Lucy Banning and Rev. Alexander Bushnell who were married at Hartford, Ohio, Aug. 19, 1830.

Sherman Andrews Line.

240 SHERMAN ANDREWS, son of Asa Andrews, born at Hartland, Conn., July 12, 1790. He came to Ohio with his father's family in 1804. Married first Nov. 10, 1814, at Hartford, Ohio, to FANNY BUSHNELL, daughter of William Bushnell and Mary Borden. William Bushnell was son of Alexander Bushnell. Fanny Bushnell Andrews died at Hartford, Ohio, Sept. 11, 1828, of the sickness that prevailed at that time, age 36. Born 1792.

Sherman Andrews married second Nov. 17, 1831, to ELIZABETH WENTWORTH. Sherman Andrews sold his property at Hartford, Ohio, in 1848 or 1849 and went to Illinois in fall of 1850, and probably went to California with one of the large emmigrant trains that moved to California in 1851 overland.

A great amount of smallpox and cholera prevailed among these emmigrants, who went out in 1851 and 1852 and many hundreds of them died during the trip. Nothing has ever been heard of him except that it is known that he had visited with a nephew, Wells Andrews of New London, Iowa, and that he left a small box of uncut garnets with him which he kept in his home for many years, and they were used as playthings by his chlldren and grandchildren for many years. He probably died during the emmigration to California. Children.

952 Lucy Andrews.

953-1 Eliza Andrews.

953-2 Lovina Andrews, born June, 1826. Died at Hartford, O., Sept. 23, 1828, age 16 months.

No further record of this family has been found. Two of the above children may have died in the sickness of 1828 when their mother died, as report indicates that their grandfather, Wm. Bushnell, lost five children and two grandchildren at that time. This may have been two of the above grandchildren.

Schuyler Andrews Line.

241 SCHUYLER ANDREWS, son of Asa Andrews, born at Hartland, Conn., March 4, 1796. To Hartford, Ohio, with his father in 1804. Married April 18, 1820, at Hartford, Ohio, to HANNAH BATTLES of Brookfield, Ohio. He died Aug. 3, 1829. He had three children, all young and his widow was appointed their guardian until they reached the age of 12 and 14 years. Born between 1821 and 1829. Children.

954 Miria Amanda Andrews, possibly married James Crozier.

955 Lucy Fidelia Andrews.

956 Asa Battles Andrews. Married Cynthia Elmyra.

In 1849 Asa B. Andrews and Mira Andrews deeded each one-third of lot 27, in Hartford, Ohio, to Jarvis Moses. Asa B. Andrews then married and gave his residence as Mercer county, Pa., and gave name of his wife as "Cynthia Elmiria" (last name not given). This was the property that Schuyler Andrews probably received from his father, Asa Andrews estate. The widow had the other one-third, which indicates that the other child Lucy had probably died. Hannah Andrews died at Hartford, O., Dec. 11, 1827, and was buried next to Lucy Andrews, widow of Asa Andrews, She was 1 year and 7 months old, born 1826, probably a daughter of Schuyler Andrews.

954 MIRIA ANDREWS, probably married about 1851 JAMES CROZIER, who was in the Civil War three years.

In 1849 she gave a deed for one-third interest in Lot 27, which had been a part of the estate of Schuyler Andrews, signing the deed Miria L. Andrews, to James Moses. In 1841, April 15, Hannah Andrews deeded to Ebenezer Bebbe 10 acres, Lot 26, Hartford. This would be part of Schuyler Andrews' estate. Deed was witnessed by Lucy F. Andrews. This was probably the widow of Schuyler Andrews, Hannah Battles.

LATE ADDITIONS.

258 MARQUIS LYMAN ANDREWS had daughter.

258½ Florence Eliza Andrews, born Feb. 4, 1859. Married Feb. 2, 1879, to John W. Palm. She died Aug. 24, 1938, at Yakt, Montana, age 79. Buried at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

Historical.

Hartford, Trumbull county, Ohio, where the Andrews family settled on their removal from Hartland, Conn., 1804, is situated in the extreme eastern tier of townships of Trumbull county, next to the state of Pennsylvania.

The first settlement was made in 1799 by Edward Brockway. His son, Titus Brockway, came out in 1800 and joined his father.

W. C. Jones settled in 1802. Aaron Brockway came in 1798 to Vernon township, but removed to Hartford in 1802.

Asa Andrews purchased 1000 acres of land in Hartford Township and came out in 1804, bringing his wife Lucy Ackley, and six sons and a small daughter.

Robert McFarland came in 1803. The following came in 1804 and 1805, largely coming from Hartland, Conn.:

Thomas Bushnell, who married a sister of Asa Andrews, Rebecca Andrews, Capt. Alexander Bushnell, Joheil Hurlburt, Russell Borden, Nehemiah Andrews, Martin Gangyard, Thomas Dugan, Isaac Olmstead, Ashael Borden, Wm. Rathburn, Linus Hayes, Davis Fuller, Eben Chapman, David Lane, Andrew Bushnell, Shaler Fitch, Orvie Shatte, Lester Hayes, Horace Flower, Lebbius Beach, Elam Jones, Chester Andress, Titus Hayes, Philo Borden, Sylvester Borden, Elija Woodford, Levi Giddings, Richard Hayes.

These last 18 came from 1805 to 1812.

Linus Hayes and Jerusha Bushnell were married Sept. 11, 1805. The first couple married. Titus Brockway and Minerva Palmer of Vernon married before 1805. Lucy Andrews, daughter of Asa Andrews, age 2 years, was first person to be buried in the cemetery at the Center of Hartford. The site was selected after her death and was still covered by forest trees. She died Oct. 11, 1805. Mrs. Jerusha Hayes, wife of Linus Hayes and daughter of Thomas Bushnell, died 1806. Mrs. Daniel Bushnell died July 7, 1809.

An epidemic of sickness prevailed so extensively through the whole western country during this year, visited this township, and carried off fifteen persons, mostly elderly people. Among the deaths were Asa Andrews, Jeheil Hurlburt, Titus Hayes, Russell Borden and Mrs. Lucy Fitch, widow of John Fitch, the inventor of the steamboat.

The old church was erected in 1819-20, at a cost of $1310. Among the largest subscribers to the building fund were Thomas Thompson, Davis Fuller, Chester Andrews, Wm. Bushnell, Elam Jones, Calvin Cone, Philo Borden, Seth Thompson, Shaler Fitch, Ashael Brainard and Amos Brockway.

Currency was so scarce that barter was in general use. It was difficult to raise enough cash to pay the Treasurer for taxes. School teachers taught at 75 cents a week or less, and some were paid in store orders. Calico was 50 cents a yard for their Sunday best dress. Butter 6 cents a pound, pork and beef 2 to 3 cents a pound. Men and boys used buckskin breeches for every day wear.

In 1826 Rev. Wells Andrews, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church at Alexandria, Va., accepted a call to the church at Hartford, O., and for some years remained there. He was a brother of Chester Andrews and son of Asa Andrews, and related to many of the inhabitants and early cleared up a farm, chopping days and studying nights during his preparation for college, being one of the pioneers of the township. This seems to have been the Golden Age for the church, Mr. Andrews having been able to exert a great influence in the community.

William Bushnell, born Lyme, Conn., May 18, 1760. Married Mary Borden. Had ten children, among whom were Alexander Bushnell, who probably married Lucy Banning, a sister to Harriet Banning, who married Nelson Andrews and Fanny Bushnell, who married Sherman Andrews.

In 1828 typhoid fever prevailed very hard in the township. William Bushnell lost his wife, five of his children and two grandchildren and one daughter-in-law. These two grandchildren may have been the children of Sherman Andrews and Fanny Bushnell, as we can find no further record of them.

The Harper Family of Virginia.

1 Sir Wiliam Harper, Knight, oldest son of Sir Thomas Harper, Knight, was Lord of Rashell. Married Margaret Coke, daughter of Henry Coke, of Cathorp Manor in Leicester.

2 Humphrey Harper, his second son, married Elizabeth Stokes.

3 Walter Harper of Chenen in Oxfordshire.

4 John Harper, who emigrated to Virginia.

5 & 6 Robert Harper, the father of Capt. John Harper, who died at Alexandria, Va., in 1803.

7 Capt. William Harper, father of 8 William Harper, born at Alexandria, Va., 1766. Married Mary Thomas Newton.

Capt. John Harper and his wife, Mary Cunningham Harper, were the parents of Nancy Harper, who became the wife of Rev. Wells Andrews and came to Hartford, Ohio, with Rev. Wells, who became pastor of the church at Hartford. Later the widow of Capt. John Harper, Mary Cunningham Harper, and mother of Nancy, came from Virginia to Hartford, Ohio, to live with her daughter Nancy. She died there in 1832 and is buried there in the old cemetery at the Center, in an old fashioned box-like vault, which stands about three feet high above the ground, about six feet long and three feet wide, with a flat stone covering the top of the whole vault, on which is engraved her name and other information. This vault is still in a good state of preservation at the present time.

236 Rebbecca Andrews, daughter of Nehemiah Andrews and sister of ASA ANDREWS. She was born at East Haddam or Hartland, Conn., 1766. Married March 14, 1782, at Hartland, Conn., to Thomas Bushnell. She died Jan. 12, 1842, at Hartford, Ohio. They had the following children:

1 Gen. Andrew Bushnell.

2 Rebecca Bushnell. Married Col. Horace Flower.

3 Jerusha Bushnell. Married Linas Hayes.

4 Hannah Bushnell. Married Col. Asa Hutchins. They were the parents of Wells Andrews Hutchins.

5 Lorena Bushnell. Married Dr. Collins Wilcox.

6 Thomas Bushnell, Jr.

7 Amanda Bushnell. Married Samuel Corning.

8 Eli Bushnell. Lived and died at Hartford, Ohio.

The Bushnell family came from Hartland, Conn., in 1804 with the large party that left Hartland, Conn., summer of 1804 and settled at Hartford, being the first settlers in the township.

David E. Bushnell, son of Gen. Andrew Bushnell. Died in Europe. Probably killed there.
Alexander Bushnell came from Lyme, Conn., to Hartford Ohio. Was son of Francis Bushnell, one of the first settlers of Guilford, Conn. He landed at Boston in 1630. He married Chloe Waite, daughter of Thomas Waite, one of the Judges who signed the death warrant of Charles I of England. Capt. Alexander Bushnell died at Hartford, Ohio, March, 1818. Was in Revolutionary War, as also was his son Thomas.
Alexander Bushnell and Lucy Banning, married Aug. 19, 1830, by Rev. Wells Andrews, Hartford, Ohio.

Historical.

The Old Fashioned Tomb in the Center Cemetery at Hartford, Ohio, and the History of the Lady who is Interred There.

In the old cemetery at the Center of Hartford, township, Ohio, there is one of the old fashioned tombs, such as was in general use in England in early times, and also extensively in the New England and other Colonial states, along the eastern coast during the early years of the settlement of our country. It is a box-shape tomb, about three feet high, built up to cover the whole of the grave, and the engraving, placed on a flat stone, lying flat on the top of the tomb.

There are probably few people, now living, that know anything of the history of the lady who is buried in that tomb, and many who may have wondered who she was, and why buried in the cemetery at Hartford.

She was Mrs. Mary Harper, widow of Capt. John Harper of Virginia, and the mother of Nancy Harper Andrews, wife of the Rev. Wells Andrews, who was pastor of the church at Hartford from about 1826 to 1836 or 1838. Her maiden name was Mary Reynolds. She married when young a Mr. Cunningham, who being in ill health, died on a vessel on which he was returning home to Virginia. The Captain of the vessel was Capt. John Harper, considerably older than she was, and a widower and a member of a wealthy and influential family of Virginia. The Captain felt sorry for the young widow, and helped her all he could, and after a time married her.

They had nine children, the eighth being Nancy Harper, who married Rev. Wells Andrews while he was pastor of the church at Alexandria, Va., 1819. After Capt. Harper died, she came to Ohio to live with her daughter, where she died in 1832. As there were no facilities for taking her back to Virginia, she was interred in the cemetery at Hartford and this old fashioned tomb erected over her grave. It is the only one of the kind in the cemetery. Rev. Wells Andrews was son of Asa Andrews, and brother of Deacon Chester Andrews, and his wife, Lucy Ackley, who are also buried in the cemetery.

Rev. Wells Andrews and his wife Nancy moved west to Illinois with his family, most of whom were born at Hartford. He died Feb. 14, 1867, at Washington, Ill., age 80, and Nancy Harper Andrews died July 12, 1871, at Washington, Ill.

Early Life In Virginia.

Recollections of what my mother told me, long ago, of what her mother told her of life in Virginia, in the early 19th century, by Mrs. Mary A. Jaques, granddaughter of Rev. Wells and Nancy Harper Andrews.

Virginia was a slave state and the Harper family owned slaves. So many, it was something of a problem to keep them all busy and out of mischief. The colored girls would be scouring brass door knobs oftener than they needed it, and be given other needless tasks. In the family of Mrs. Mary Harper (widow of Capt. John Harper) was an orphan granddaughter of the Captain, named Mary Harper. She and Nancy took turns, week about, in giving out the supplies to the "colored" people. Mary did not feel at liberty to deal out more than the regular quota to each, but when they said to Nancy, "Je's a lil mo', Miss Nancy," she the daughter of the family, would give a little more, so the slaves liked her week best.

This Mary Harper was a beautiful girl, that a Baltimore artist asked to paint her portrait for his own pleasure. After that Mrs. Harper hired him to paint Nancy's portrait, the one Aunt Maggie Harlan had in her home, now in possession of Minnie Eyman.

Mary Harper married Dr. Thomas Swift and her portrait is probably owned by her descendants. She was about the age of Nancy Harper, older than Joshua, younger than James. There was an attachment between her and James, but the family thought them too nearly related, and they didn't marry. We have a book with an inscription on the title page, "To Joshua Harper from his affectionate Mary Swift." She was his half niece, a daughter of one of Capt. Harper's sons by his first marriage. The family disapproved of selling slaves and an older half sister of Nancy's incurred the censure of the family when she sold slaves. When slaves were sold, they were marched through the streets, to the wharf to embark, perhaps for Charleston or New Orleans, but not in the daytime. Nancy told of looking from her bedroom window just at daylight and seeing the mournful procession pass. James Harper disapproved of slavery and set free those he owned. Before this, one troublesome man named Alex ran away, but no effort was made to bring him back.

We have the bill of sale of a mullato woman to James Harper, dated 1824. It is a warranty deed for $150. On the other side of the sheet is an agreement to hire the same woman to his mother for seven years, also for $150, after which time she should be set absolutely free.

We also have a bond for the hire of a negro woman dated 1801 for ten pounds (Virginia currency), the one who hired her agreeing to pay her tax and furnish her with customary clothing, viz, one jacket and petticoat, two shifts, stockings and shoes and one summer jacket and one blanket, signed by Thomas Yoeell; who was the husband of one of Capt. John Harper's older daughters by first marriage. Slave marriages were regarded as but temporary. One slave woman, sold by her owner away from her family to Capt. John Harper, was given another husband and raised another family, but she longed to see her older children and was considered so trustworthy that she was allowed to go and visit them (a long distance away), and came back faithfully, and better satisfied.

Those who had not themselves done physical work could not be considerate of those who did it for them. Nancy told, in later years, how the colored mammy would be kept standing, holding a candle, perhaps to show some guest to her room, till she would fall asleep, tip the candle and spill some tallow and be scolded for it.

A slave girl left to Nancy Harper by her father, but the girl died before Nancy became of age.

After her marriage to Rev. Wells Andrews Nancy lived some years in Alexandria, where he was pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, probably living with her mother. When she moved to Ohio, where she heard condemnation of slave holders, it made her indignant. They were her own people—the finest in the world, in her eyes. Finally she would not speak at all on the subject, but when, on a farm near Tremont, Ill., she had herself worked hard, she came to realize that it was not right to take from another the unpaid toil of a life time.

She was not happy in Ohio until her mother came to live with her, then she was entirely satisfied.

She was of an impulsive nature, warm hearted and very generous. While the family lived near Tremont, they took Horace Greely's paper and read anti-slavery news. Uncle Tom's Cabin was published at this time and read aloud in the family circle, incidents in the book bringing back memories of early life in Virginia.

Regarding the Civil War, she said, "If I had stayed in Alexandria my four sons would have been in the Confederate army. It was providential that we came north."

Historical.

WILLIAM ANDREWS of Cambridge, Mass., and Hartford, Conn. Christian Name of the Andrews Families.

In reference to the surname Andrews, it is somewhat significant that many of the descendants of both John of Farmington and William of Hartford were called "Andrus," while this name does not appear with reference to any of the other kindred names during those days. In this connection it is curious to notice that John of Farmington, in his will, called all of his children Andrews, yet his wife, in her deed of trust, a few years later called some of them Andrews and some Andrus, but the father would have none of it. All of the children of William's son Thomas were called Andrus, and William's daughter Elizabeth is given as Andrus.

But the Christian names are more significant. John and his presumed brother, Thomas, had three children similarly named. John's daughter Rachel and Thomas's son John had three and Rachel and Thomas himself four. John and Thomas' son John had five children similarly named. John's son Benjamin and Thomas' son John had four. John's daughter Hannah and Thomas' son John had five and Hannah and Thomas himself six. John's son Daniel and Thomas had four.

Elizabeth Andrews.

Elizabeth Andrews was married to Edward Grannis, May 3, 1654. She was probably born in 1636 or 1637, and perhaps some years earlier. She was no doubt a daughter of William Andrews by his first wife Mary. When she married Grannis she was living at Farmington, apparently permanently, as she was called Elizabeth Andrews of Farmington, daughter of William. There was no other Andrews at Farmington then but the members of John's family, and so far as I know, Elizabeth had no other relatives or intimate friends there. After her marriage she went to Hartford, and she and her husband lived with the family of William Andrews. At that time John of Farmington had five children, the oldest but 8 years old, and they were coming every two years. John's wife must have been badly in need of some assistance, especially as they were apparently attending church in Hartford, and they couldn't take all the babies there. Therefore I believe it to be fair to assume that Elizabeth was living there with her brother John's family. Also three years before Elizabeth was married John's son Joseph was born, and he was the baby of the family until about a month before Elizabeth was married, when Rachel was born. Elizabeth was married May 3, 1654, and on March 31, 1656, she had a son born and she named him Joseph.

William Andrews, Hartford Records.

In the court records of Hartford county there is no record with reference to any of William Andrews' sons, except the statement that John of Farmington was made Freeman May 18, 1658. Apparently the records are not complete in reference to Freemen. Thomas and Samuel Andrews were both made Freemen but the court records do not show it. However, the list of all Freemen in 1669 are preserved, and they are among the number.

William Andrews, Cambridge, Mass., Records.

William and Mary Andrews were the emigrant ancestors of the Andrews line. But little is known as to William Andrews' early life and nothing whatever is known with reference to his wife Mary. There were several William Andrews in the Colonies during the early days of the Puritans and it is often difficult to distinguish between them. About all that is known of his early life is contained in the following statements from Pope's Pioneers of Massachusetts, and it is certain that this does not all apply to our William Andrews. This book states that "Godly parents brought him up until he was 17 years of age." That he was apprenticed at Ipswich, England, and came first to Charlestown and that in his absence his wife moved to Cambridge, "which pleased him." He was made Freeman March 4, 1634-5, and that he lived in Cambridge and sold all his house and lands and rights in Cambridge Sept. 25, 1637. That his wife died in 1640. The book contains other statements but they evidently apply to another William Andrews who came to Cambridge a few years after our William Andrews went to Hartford and the writer of the book confused the two William Andrews. This second William Andrews was a mariner. The History of Massachusetts 1630 to 1877 also states that ancestor William Andrews was a mariner, but also confuses him with his follower at Cambridge.

Ancestor Wm. Andrews first appeared at Cambridge, so far as reliable records go, Dec. 1, 1634. But he was probably there some time before then. He soon took a prominent plan in the affairs of the town. His ability to do this was owing perhaps to his superior education. He was afterwards a school teacher and was no doubt well educated for those times. He wrote an excellent hand, as is indicated by the old Hartford Records, written by him when town clerk and county recorder. His home lot in Cambridge, then called Newtown, was on the northeast corner of Dunster and Winthrop streets and occupied about one-fourth of the block, surrounded by Dunster, Winthrop, Mt. Auburn and Holyoke streets. Dec. 1, 1634, William Andrews was granted five acres in the West Field. This Field was about one mile northwest of the settlement. Aug. 20, 1635, all the meadow land, undivided, belonging to Cambridge, was ordered measured and divided to every man, according to his several proportions. In this division, William received two and one-half acres. On Feb. 8, 1635-36, William owned two houses in the town. It may be that one of these was for Francis Andrews, who seemed to be a younger brother of William, but Francis was then not married.

On March 4, 1635, William was made Freeman in Boston, the county seat, together with Thomas Scott, Thomas and Timothy Stanley, Samuel Greenhill and William Pantry, all men intimately associated with William Andrews.

William also was chosen one of the nine townsmen or selectmen for the town for one year on Nov. 23, 1635, at a general meeting of the town. He was also, at the same meeting, chosen constable for the year following. The constables during those years, at least until 1666, were always townsmen.

Oct. 27, 1636, according to the books of record of Mass. Bay Colony, Newtown presented a book of their records under the hand of William Andrews, constable, John Benjamin and William Spencer.

He attended a meeting of selectmen on the 7th of Dec., 1635. At this meeting it was ordered that a bridge be built on the town side of the river, down to a low water mark, and a ladder on the other side. Apparently this was a swampy place, called a "ship marsh," on the town side of the Charles river, which they bridged so as to reach the ferry, over the river; while on the other side the banks were high and a ladder was needed. There were but five of the nine selectmen present at this meeting, so they ordered that whosoever appears not within half an hour after the ringing of the bell shall pay for the first offense six pence, and for the second day twelve pence, and double it every day, unless he has a just excuse such as may give satisfaction to the rest of the company. The following meetings were much better attended. On Jan. 4, 1635-36, William attended the meeting and seven other selectmen were present. They granted some lots in the pine swamp field to several persons, two acres being granted to James Hosmer, "provided he buy a house in the town or else to return again to the town." On the 8th of February, 1635-36, all the selectmen were present. Various orders were entered in reference to land. It was ordered that whosoever hath or hereafter shall have any ground lying in the bounds of the town and shall desire to let or sell the same, he shall not let or sell the same to anyone who is an inhabitant of the town, or will be within twelve months thereafter upon the forfeiture of all such land unto the town. (Apparently they were seeking to get new comers.) That there shall be one acre railed in with double rail, for dry cattle to lie in at night. A list was made showing 38 persons having 78 houses in the town, many persons having more than one. William Andrews had two, with a population of about 600 persons, including servants and slaves.

At the meeting of March, 1635-36, the selectmen agreed with Richard Rice to keep 100 cows for three months, and to have ten pounds after the ships come in, or in June, also to have three men to help him the first 14 days, and one man the next seven days. He to fetch the cows into the town every morning out of the common, half an hour after the sun is up, at the furthermost and to bring them into the barn half an hour before the sun goeth down; and to pay three pence a cow every night he leaveth out any.

The meeting of June 6, 1636, was probably the last attended by the selectmen William Andrews, Thomas Hosmer, Andrew Warner and Clement Chaplin, as it is supposed that they all went to Hartford about that time, and none of these were re-elected the following November. This exodus to Hartford seemed to disorganize the government, as there were no more meetings of the council until Oct. 3, 1636. At this meeting on June 6, 1636, it was agreed with Mr. Andrews, that his man keep the calves for 13 shillings a week, "so long as we think good, only we are to provide him a man for the present, if he should require it of us." From this it would seem that Mr. Andrews was contemplating leaving for Hartford, but expected to retain at least a part of his land and a hired man.

Hartford, Conn.

Just when William Andrews went from Cambridge to Hartford is not known but probably it was in the summer of 1636, and it may be that he went with the Hooker company in early June.

It is said that his wife Mary died at Braintree Jan. 29, 1640 (new style). The records show the death there of Mary, the wife of Mr. William Andrews 19 (11) 1639, that is the 19th day of the 11th month, 1639, which would be Feb. 29, 1640, new style. There was another William Andrews whose wife died about that time apparently and in that neighborhood, and who went to Cambridge about 1640, and it is very likely she was the one who died about then, as ancestor William's wife was alive in May, 1638, and married his second wife Abigail Graves, apparently before 1641. There is also a record of William's wife dying in Cambridge Feb. 29, 1639. This was probably our ancestor. She may have returned to her father's home. William apparently had by his first wife four children:

John, born about 1620, married Mary....., lived in Farmington, Conn. Died in 1682.

Abigail, born....., unmarried, lived in Fairfield, Conn. Died there in 1653.

Elizabeth, born....., lived in Farmington, married Edward Grannis in 1654 in Hartford. Died 1660.

Thomas, born May, 1638, married Hannah Kirby. Lived in Middletown. Died in 1691.

American Magazine of Genealogy, 1930, mentions a son William, probably died young. Nothing is known of this son.

By his second wife Abigail Graves, a sister of George Graves, who lived within a block of William at Hartford, probably lived with her brother before her marriage. They did not come from Cambridge but probably came direct from Hertford, England. They had following children:

Esther, born Sept. 6, 1641, married Thomas Spencer, Jr. Lived in Suffield.

Samuel, born October, 1645, married Elizabeth Spencer. Lived in Hartford. Died 1710.

William Andrews' home lot in Hartford, presumably granted to him when he first came to Hartford, was the northeast corner lot on what was then called the road from the mill to the south meadow and the highway on the bank of the river at the crossing of the road from the mill to the country. These roads are now called respectively Elm street and Trinity street. This lot, however, was in what is now the West Park and was on the south bank of the little river, just at the west end of the island. The house was located in the southwest corner of the lot, just at the street corner.

William first appeared in Hartford, according to the records, as one of the proprietors in the division of land Jan. 13, 1640 (new style), when he was awarded 30 acres. Jan. 24, 1640, his name appears among those specified by order of the townsmen as "the names of such inhabitants as have rights in undivided lands," and a year later, March 13, 1641, he received 33 acres in the distribution of the east side of the river in Hocazim (now East Hartford). This land was all bought finally from the Indian tribe of Suchlago.

William was the schoolmaster of Hartford, also sometimes called the letter writer. Dec. 16, 1642, it was ordered that 30 pounds a year shall be settled upon the school by the town forever, and at a meeting in April, 1643, it was ordered that Mr. Andrews should teach the children in the school one year next ensuing from the 25th of March, 1643 (O. S.), and that he shall have for his pains 16 pounds, and therefore the townsmen shall go and enquire who will engage himself to send their children and all that do, shall pay for one quarter at the least and for more if they do send them after. And Mr. Andrews shall keep account between the children's schooling and himself and send notes at the time of payment and demand it. And if his wages doth not so come in then the townsmen must collect and pay it. (A pound was worth at that time about $3.00.)

This order contains the germ of the free public schools, which bore fruit April 23, 1674, when a free public school was established. Apparently Mr. Andrews continued to teach until shortly before his death in 1659. In March 1649, he was granted by the town 10 pounds for the year which began Sept., 1648, which paid him until the 25th of December, 1648.

Nov. 29, 1650, it was ordered that Mr. Andrews shall attend to keep the school for this present year and to have 10 pounds paid him by the town, beside that which he is to have from the parents of the children. His year began on the 29th of September, last. Jan. 17, 1656, the town granted him 10 pounds for schooling for the year 1655, and 10 pounds for the year 1656, when it is out. As Wm. Pitkin was made schoolmaster after William Andrews' death, it is probable that the latter died "in the harness," as it were.

It is probable that the school was kept in the house of Mr. Andrews or in the church or some other building, as on Feb. 11, 1649, the townsmen agreed that 40 pounds shall be paid to the townsmen to the end that a suitable building be built for such purpose, not to be devoted to any other use or employment. There seems to have been some trouble in regard to it as there was no house built during the lifetime of Mr. Andrews.

Mr. Andrews was also town recorder, being appointed at a meeting of the town Jan. 22, 1652, and he acted as such until 1658. He is said to have been an accomplished clerk and scholar, as the records which are yet preserved, in his exact and beautiful penmanship sufficiently indicate.

"Who Were the Pilgrim Fathers?"

The general answer is: "All those members of the Separatists Church of Leyden who voted for the migration to America, whether they actually were able to go there or not, together with such others as joined the church from England. Membership in the Pilgrim church was the first qualification."

It excluded those of the Pilgrim church who had no wish to go to America.

It also excluded all hired men who went out on the Mayflower and who did not become members of the church in the Old Colony.

So all the members of the Mayflower passengers were not Pilgrim Fathers.

It excludes, likewise, Thomas Weston and the 70 adventurers as such, for having stock in the joint stock did not make them Pilgrim Fathers.

It further excludes (though it is very hard to make the exclusion) three of the four of the London merchants, now known as the Noble Friends of the Pilgrims, who were among the number of the Adventurers and who also joined with the eight undertakers of the Colony in the composition of Nov. 25, 1626. "Richard Andrews, John Beauchamps and James Shirley," but it includes the fourth of them, because he settled at Scituate about the year 1635. The eight colonists and the four London merchants, undertakers (Signors) of the composition of 1626 were also known as the purchasers.

In 1639 a large tract of land was granted to the four London merchants (Signors) by the Plymouth Company, to James Shirley, Richard Andrews, Mr. Beauchamps and Mr. Hetherly, in Scituate township. In a letter April 7, 1643, to Mr. Freeman from Mr. Andrews, he says, "And as I intend, if the partners parley end with me satisfactory in part and engaging themselves for the rest of my said 544 Li., to return back for the poor, my part of the land in Scituate." Taken from Wm. Bradford's History of Plymouth Colony.

The Composition of 1626.

To All Christian People, Greetings, &c:

Whereas at a meeting of the 26th day of October, last past, divers and sundry persons, whose names to the one part of these present are subscribed in a schedule, hereunto annexed, Adventurers to New Plymouth in New England, in America, are contented and agreed in the consideration of the sum of one thousand and eight hundred Pounds Sterling, to be paid (in manner and form following) to sell and make sale of all and every, the stocks, shares, lands, merchandise and chattles whatsoever to the said Adventurers and others, their fellow Adventurers to New Plymouth, aforesaid, any way accruing or belonging to the Generalities of the said Adventurers, afore-

Rev. Wells Andrews Line.

239 (REV.) WELLS ANDREWS, born Nov. 21, 1787, at Hartland, Conn. Died Feb. 14, 1867, at Washington, Ill. Moved to Hartford, Ohio, 1804, with his father, Asa Andrews. Married at Alexandria, Virginia, Sept. 14, 1819, to NANCY HARPER, who was born in Fairfax county, Va., May 4, 1795, and died July 12, 1871, at Washington, Ill. She was the 28th of 29 children of (Sea) Captain John Harper and the 8th by his second wife, Mrs. Mary (Reynolds) Cunningham. Capt. Harper, a prominent resident on an estate in Fairfax Co., Va., owned slaves, some of whom he freed, and is designated by the Sons of the American Revolution as "a patriot, who furnished ammunition to Washington during the Revolution." He was a Quaker and owned ocean going ships, a warehouse and wharf at Alexandria. Erected two blocks of brick houses of 2 and 3 stories beside a town residence. After his death (1804) his oldest son James, by his wife Mary above, voyaged to Spain in 1809 with merchandise as supercargo, while the youngest child Joshua made a similar venture to Rio Janeiro and Buenos Ayres in 1823. Family tradition through several of Nancy's children, reports that she danced with General LaFayette at a reception at Alexandria at the time of his visit to the U. S. A. in 1824-26. Her auburn hair, in a portrait painted by E. King at Baltimore 1816, is identical in tint with that of her descendants of the 3rd and 4th generations. Wells Andrews taught school at Hartford, O., 1805, east of Town Hall site and later in a higher school with Miss Caroline Andrews. Attended Jefferson College at Cannonsburg, Pa., graduated 1812. Taught Bedford (Pa.) Academy two years; entered Princeton Thological Seminary 1814; groduated 1816. Home Missionary, Wilmington, N. C.; called 1817 to Second Presbyterian church at Alexandria, Va.; served 10 years; became pastor of new church at Hartford, O., 1827; in 1837 called to professorship at Athens, O., University. To Illinois in 1843; Washington one year; pastor Tremont Congregational church 10 years, residing on a farm. He returned to Washington Presbyterian church 1854, where he preached regurly six years, and occasionally till his death. Children.
